CHICAGO. May 29.—Henry Zimmerman, Chicago Nationals' third base-man, will be out of the game for some time, it was said yesterday, after his twisted ankle had been examined. "Owing to the fact that certain situations now exist, it is necessary to change section 7 of the by-laws of this association, which defines the status of an ama teur golf player.

"It is to be regretted that certain players, members of the clubs belonging to the United States Golf Association, have been and are utilizing their golfing abilneration, directly or indirectly, which is in violation of the said by-laws. Notwithstanding the fact that the Brooklyn club is one of the strongest in the United States, its best men having had a great deal of experience in matches of this sort, a win for Washington is expected, for it will have what is said to be the strongest team that has ever represented the city in a big match.

The team, as chosen by the committee, is made up of these ten players: Wilbur Moorman, one of the strongest players in this section; Norman T. Whitaker, formerly of the U. of P., and now one of the leading exponents of the game; L. B. Zapoleon, champion of the Club; F. B. Walker, ex-champion of the District; R. F. Lovell, William R. Alpheus Winter, vice chairman of the green committee at the Columbia Country Club, and Ormsby McCammon, a member of the golf committee of Chevy Chase, both have practically the same ideas on the subject as Mr. Thompson and all hold that the most liberal interpretation should govern in all cases except where the player in question is actually teaching the game of violating the by-law in question to such an extent that there is no room for any doubt as to his status. In a word, these three golfers who are probably in closer touch with golf interests than any other players in the city are of the opinion that "A golfer who is paid for his golf is a professional, while one who is paid for his knowledge of the game is not."

Meade of St. Agnes let the Ninth team down with two hits and won his game for the St. 2. The champions of the East Washington Sunday School League of last year were unable to connect with Meade's delivery at any time, Madigan and Howell being the only two to hit safely. St. Agnes found the Ninth pitcher's rather easy, nine safeties being registered against them. St. Agnes scored three runs in the first inning, which was sufficient to give it the game, though it added one each in the third and fourth and three in the fifth.

Shoemaker, at third for St. Agnes, did some fine work. He not only played brilliantly in the field, but his hitting was much above the average. The Printers were compelled to accept The Printers were compelled to accept another defeat yesterday. They did not hit well enough against the Spartans to figure prominently in the scoring, only one hit being credited to them during the entire contest; that was obtained by the printers that was obtained by Thornberg. Cantwell pitched well for the Spartans all the way, as the poor hitting by the Printers shows.

Jimmy Green was the only member of the Spartans to get more than one safety, as Weaver, hurling for the Printers, was in the main effective. Zachary fielded a nice game at second for the Spartans and Weaver accepted four assists for the Printers.

The Cievelands found thin nourishment in New York Philadelphia and Darkness put an end to a mighty interesting contest between Holy Name and the Iroquois. The Iroquois scored first, getting a run in the second and adding another in the fourth. Holy Name got both its tallies in the fourth. After that neither of the teams was able to get a man across the plate, so effectively did the pitchers work.

Nops, for Holy Name, allowed the Iroquois only three hits, while Power, who was on the mound for the Iroquois, kept the bingies of the Holy Name players well scattered, only four hits being obtained. Nops' work for Holy Name was exceptional. He struck out thirteen men and fielded his position well. Power also fielded an exceptional game, but Ten bases on balls by Cash and Dunbar allowed the Navy team a chance to make the game in the Treasury League very close. The Navy aggregation was unable to hit the ball effectively, only two safe wallops being obtained, but the many walks to first practically gave it its runs. Notwithstanding that Hoffman allowed eight hits, he struck out twelve of the Interstate batters.

Tillett and Buffin led the teams in hitting, each getting two safeties out of three times up.

Stearns, at shortstop for Mount Pleas ant, featured the contest between that club and the St. Paul team. The former Western High youngster not only his well, but he fielded brilliantly. Out of well, but he fielded brilliantly. Out of three times at bat he got a two-bagger and a home run, while he accepted all his chances in the field. Schultz and E. Thompson had perfect days at the bat, both connecting for two hits out of as many times up. Stearns made the only extra base hits of the game, though.

Mount Pleasant scored four runs in the second and sold two more in the third. second and got two more in the third. Thompson pitched splendid ball for the winners, holding St. Paul to three safeties. Peine, at third for Mt. Pleasant, also fielded well, accepting five chances without an error

Pitcher Fred Herche, released to the Rochester club by the Boston Nationals, modestly asked for more money from the International League club than his Boston contract called for. President Chapin of Rochester said he could not see where a player was worth more money in a minor league than in a major and refused the request.

Oxon Hill hit the ball very hard in the Potomac League, and had little or not rouble winning from Congress Heights. Thirteen times was the ball driven into safe territory by that club, and only one player failed to get at least one single. Cherrydale got twelve hits off the delivery of Albaugh in the Marquette League and got away with the St. Martin's nine by a margin of three runs. Vernstein pitched well for Cherrydale. Shipley, behind the bat for the losers, led in the hitting, he getting three singles out of four trips to the plate. Burroughs of Cherrydale faced Albaugh three times and connected for a three-base hit and a single.

The Commissioners only got three hits off Stanton in the Departmental League. Burke, in centerfield, got two of those, and Hurley, at short, made the other. Stanton struck out seven men, but marred his good work somewhat with four passes.

Merrill Vaughn, who held down third base for Post Office, did about the best work of any of the players. He had a perfect batting average, getting two hits out of as many times up, and he fielded perfectly. Jarboe, pitching for the Commissioners, accorded five chances, all of which he turned into Dartmouth must have an exceptionally good hitting team this spring. The "Big Green" aggregation has been walloping the ball pretty freely in nearly all its contests with the other colleges. Yesterday against Pennsylvania it drove three pitchers from the mound by judging their offerings with too much perfection, winning 6 to 2, and the day previous to that Harvard was beaten, 10 to 3, in the same manner. If Dartmouth continues in the way it is now going it will have a great deal to say as to where the intercollegiate base ball championship laurels will rest.

Central High yesterday elected captains for two of its teams for next year. The boys who were given the coveted honors were McDonald in the base ball and Oyster on the track. Both youngsters more than deserved the awards for their good work. McDonald has been one of Central's most consistent infielders for some time, while Oyster is the best hurdler in the school. Both boys have good futures in athletics, as they are the kind of youngsters who can hardly help succeeding. Earnest and hard workers, both, and with splendid, dispositions, they represent the best type of the scholastic athlete.

Lou Criger, veteran catcher, who was once with the New Yorks, was visited by Ban Johnson in Boston recently, where Criger is ill in a hospital. It is intended to send the former battery mate of Cy Young to Arizona when the convalescent stage is reached.

"My players may go to bed at any hour they choose," says Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis Browns, "but there are two hard and fast rules they must observe. They must get up at 7.45 and they must get just eight hours' sleep." Mr. Rickey is some logician.

Discarded Yankee players seem to fight shy of the New Jersey berths. Manager Chance released Catcher Bill Reynolds to the Jerseys and he balked. On the same day Pitcher Lynn Brown, who had been sent to Jersey City, came back into the Yankee camp, declaring he wouldn't play with the Skeeters.
